

Fine Finishes

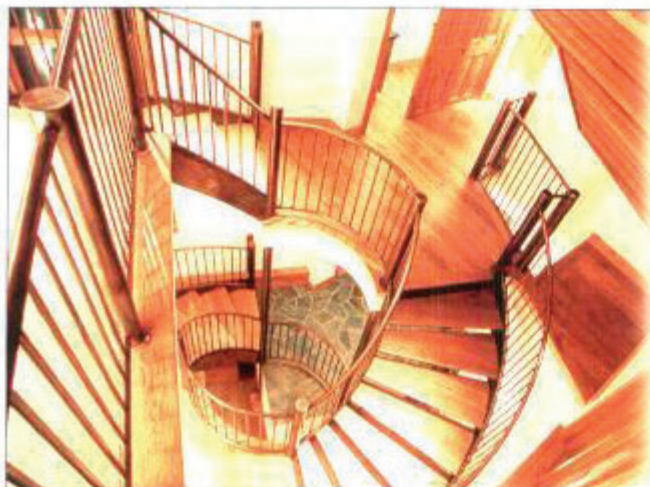

Whether your clients have a collection of 50 or 300 bottles of wine or more, Vigilant Custom Wine Cellars can design and craft a wine cellar to accommodate and display their collection. All racks and bins are constructed of mahogany and are either left unfinished or given a furniture-grade finish. The complete wine cellar can include not only racking components, but also cooling systems, moldings and trims, cellar doors, and tabletops.

Vigilant's design team and the client discuss the number of bottles the cellar will hold, the size of the space available, desired configurations, and budget and then work begins on the design. Using CAD software, the team creates a design that includes wall elevations, a labeled floor plan, and an itemized component list and price proposal. Each custom wine cellar starts from scratch; wood components are not cut until the design is finalized and approved.

Wine Connoisseur

Vigilant's wine cellars can include spaces for entertaining and tastings. 877.766.6808. www.vigilantinc.com. Circle 401.

Stairway to Heaven

Utilizing 20 years of experience in engineering and designing with metal, DSI Architectural Products builds custom stainless steel and copper stairway systems that reflect the clients' sense of style while maximizing efficient use of the home's space, whether contemporary and urban or classic and traditional.

Starting from client specifications, DSI reviews plans to ensure that no engineering problems exist that would impede fabrication or make the installation unsafe. Because no sealers are used, copper stairs will age naturally. All copper and stainless steel stairs feature a circular hand-brushed finish, unless a pre-patina on copper is desired. 800.951.7727. www.dsiarchitecturalproducts.com. Circle 402.